A special letter from our CEO!

Fall, to me, is a season of thanksgiving. A season where we pause and give thanks for a bountiful harvest, for cooler temperatures, and for family and friends that color our lives and bring us encouragement and support. In hospice, we also give thanks for our volunteers who give so unselfishly of themselves providing hours of care and help to the patients as well as the staff. Thank you volunteers for sharing your servant heart and making Hospice of North Central and our community a better place work and live.

Warmest regards,
Marta Sullivan, CEO
